Apart from this the extension cell continued with its campaign of environment resurrection even more vigorously. Despite the Corona pandemic, the student volunteers went and convinced the farmers to adopt Agri-machinery. They surveyed 35 villages of Sahnewal, Doraha and Samrala blocks and identified the need for specific machinery by different farmers. The cell then prepared a roster and issued machines to the farmers on a daily basis apart from maintaining accountability. It was specifically looked into that the machinery is distributed equally among all as per the need and time schedule. In the sowing season, 2020, the extension cell adopted 35 villages and resolved to make them burn free. Three machines, a rotavator and a super seeder were provided by CII Foundation, PTC and PFS to the college. Further, Happy Seeders, Mulchers, Rotodrill, MB Plough, Zero Till and Super Seeders were made available by the CII Foundation through different cooperative societies. The extension cell succeeded in sowing 6482 acres of land of 35 villages with the help of 6 Mulchers, 3 MB Ploughs, 8 Roto Drills, 5 Happy seeders and 3 Super seeders.

STUDENT SUPPORT AND SCHOLARSHIPS

As one of the main aims and objectives to establish this institution was to provide accessibility to girls, the weaker and the underprivileged sections of the society and the youth of the rural interior the college makes many efforts in this direction. Women students from more than a hundred villages and 'moffusil' towns are provided buses. Students belonging to the economically weaker sections are provided financial support to facilitate higher education.

During the current session such support to the tune of 22400/- was provided to 03 students by the college from the student aid fund. Books were issued for the whole session to the deserving and needy students from the book bank.
